- 5. Chancellor and Board Announcements

1. Announcements from the Chancellor

- Chancellor May reflected on Feb. 26, eight years ago, his first day as Chancellor of Dallas College so March was his first board meeting. He acknowledged that this role was without question the high point of his career. He went on to say that it was largely due to the great working relationships with this Board, and the opportunity to work on common goals with such a great leadership team, and our campus leadership over the years. And it had truly been an honor. He remembered in 1978 when he walked onto the Cedar Valley College campus during its first year of operation. It was the chance to, for the first time, really understand community colleges, the students we served and the role that we played and the impact we had on lives. "Those students that I had in the classroom literally changed my career trajectory," he said May expressed his gratitude for the faculty and those supporting and meeting the needs of students and said that although the faces had changed - the commitment, attitude and dedication was even greater today because we understood what we did was so essential today.
- Dr. May recalled another time where he would have questioned the consolidation, questioned the idea we could pass a billion-dollar bond with 71% support of the voters. He would have questioned the idea that we could have scaled what many people said was unscalable with P-TECH high schools and early college high schools investing in technologies to provide the modern infrastructure that our students and employees needed. He acknowledged Dr. Justin Lonon who would take on the role as chancellor and encouraged the support to continue to support him as Dallas College continued to offer student access to an education.
- In closing, Chancellor May said he felt we had laid the groundwork but, in many ways, it was just the beginning. He was excited to be a part of this journey and thanked the Board for the opportunity to be here; he looked forward to watching the tremendous work they would continue to do as we met the needs of our community, our employers, and more importantly, the students we served through our classrooms and through the quality instruction that we provide.

2. Announcements from the Board Chair and/or Trustees

• Vice Chair Ritter addressed Chancellor May, saying Chair Bravo asked him (Ritter) to deliver a few remarks on behalf of the Board and the community. Ritter said this podium is a place

- where members of our community addressed the Board and addressed our Chancellor. As Trustee Ritter stood at the podium, he was a representative of the community and the elected body that supported their work for many years. He conveyed on behalf of the community and the Board' sincere thanks and gratitude for Dr. May's years of service as chancellor.
- Vice Chair Ritter then chronicled his top three accomplishments of Chancellor May. First was the vision behind the Career Connected Learning Network. Second was a $1.1 billion bond approved by 71% of the voters; and finally, for guiding the transition from Dallas County Community College District to a unified Dallas College. He commented on his early conversations with Chancellor May. Dr. May could see that students were not being as successful as they could be because of structure and process. He commended Dr. May for presenting the data and taking accountability for that, and, as a result, led the Board, this organization and community on a series of much needed reforms. Work that was still being done today. He thanked Dr. May for putting them on a path to better serve our students.
- Vice Chair Ritter also reflected on some of the less visible aspects of Chancellor May's leadership. Not only here at Dallas College, but during the 44 years at previous institutions in the community college movement. Ritter said that at his core the Chancellor was an educator. Trustee Ritter also said that he has observed the deep respect Dr. May had for the role of our faculty and staff and for this Board. He continued to expand on the leadership role Dr. May played in the community college movement through numerous organizations and public incentives.
- In closing, Vice Chair Ritter was imagining whether there was a word or two that would summarize Dr. May's character and leadership that word was humanitarian. Finally, he wished Chancellor May and his wife, Jeanne, best of luck in the next chapter of their lives.
- Agreeing with Vice Chair Ritter, Trustee Diana Flores recalled her first strategic planning meeting where she was shocked by the information Chancellor May put before them showing that Dallas was third highest in the nation in poverty. Providing that information moved the Board toward setting priorities that would focus on student needs. She expressed that Dr. May went beyond what she had envisioned, giving a real opportunity to

- students with low-income backgrounds and first-time college students, really changing their lives for generations to come.
- Trustee Flores closed her remarks by thanking him and saying that he had a slogan: every student, every place, every time.
   And we needed to remember that to truly transform lives and communities through education.
- Trustee Boyd mentioned that Chancellor May worked for Dallas College when Trustee Boyd was in the Best Southwest Leadership program, which was his first real opportunity to observe Dallas College and what we had the potential to do. Chancellor May had planted the seeds for the future, which was the Board's real responsibility and handed them a great challenge and opportunity.
- Trustee Compton requested that the Board adjourn to executive session. She then went on to say that Chancellor May had initiated some things that she believed have been very beneficial to the college but one of the things that had marred his tenure for her was items like 6.3.
- Vice Chair Ritter and the Board adjourned to Executive Session for further discussion of item 6.3.

4. Committee Presentations

1. Internal Audit Department (IAD), Audit Committee Report - First Quarter ending November 30, 2021

Presenter: Lori Cox

Paul Styrvoky, Managing Director, presented the presentation on behalf of Lori Cox, Chief Internal Auditor.

The Board was provided with the presentation deck and detailed audit reports in their packets.

Engagement Updates

Paul Styrvoky provided an update regarding the following items: operational audits, compliance audits, special reviews, consulting engagements, follow-up audits, other services, duties and special projects.

Regarding Fixed Assets, Trustee Boyd inquired if Dallas College had a barcoding system in place for accountability. Styrvoky shared that there was a barcoding system in place known as the Radiant RFID system which utilizes scanners to identify equipment that has been barcoded with tags which records important information including the location of the item. Chancellor May shared that inventory cycle counts were conducted routinely to reflect updates, such as item location. Further, Mr. Styrvoky noted that Cedar Valley had been selected to test the new processes, once approved, it would be rolled out collegewide.

Regarding special investigations and reviews, Trustee Compton inquired what was included in these special investigations. General Counsel Rob Wendland shared that one review was a personnel matter involving business dealings that could be discussed further in closed session. The other review related to course curriculum review at Richland Collegiate High School to determine if their courses were required to comply with a state statute. The IAD reviewed the courses and determined that the statute did not apply.

Trustee Boyd inquired if there were interactions with police department or outside investigation teams when performing investigations and if there was a state investigation entity. Wendland noted there is only police department interaction if there was potential criminal liability. Depending on the complexity of the matter, Dallas College engaged outside investigators as well. Neither instance was present in these reviews. Lastly, the State Auditor's Office of Texas had authority to investigate matters as well.

IAD – FY22 Audit Plan Update Summary

Styrvoky provided updates regarding the status of planned engagements and activities remaining on the audit plan for FY22.

Trustee Compton requested more explanation about the Business Continuity Planning Special Project and if Business Continuity would be an on-going project in the future. Styrvoky shared that Business Continuity Planning was identified as part of the Risk Assessment Review process. The Business Continuity Planning review measured what plans the college has in place to respond to major catastrophic events the college may face in order to minimize disruptions and ensure operations continued. Chancellor May and Wendland shared that as a result of the restructuring there was now a Business Continuity Operations Office overseen by Dr. Sharon Davis. Business Continuity readiness would be updated and reviewed annually.

Trustee Boyd inquired about insurance coverage the college had to respond to these risks. Wendland shared that the college had a robust insurance coverage. Chancellor May offered to prepare a presentation with Davis regarding Business Continuity to provide additional details to discuss with the Board at a later date.

Trustee Flores requested more explanation regarding the Succession Planning engagement. Styrvoky shared that this was also a result of the Risk Assessment Review Process. The Succession Planning engagement would review the succession plans in place to ensure the needs of the college were being met (on an individual and departmental level) and the new organizational structure was operating efficiently and effectively. This would include working with Human Resources and other areas as needed.

Trustee Flores shared her concerns regarding reviewing and evaluating accountability processes within the college and emphasized the importance of measuring accountability in the audit process to ensure that policies and procedures were being followed.

Trustee Boyd shared that Internal Audit was a valuable resource and tool that could be utilized to address management and board concerns.

Trustee Compton inquired of who constitutes "Management" in the phrase "at the request of management." Styrvoky and Wendland shared that "management" was a broad term used to encompass all individuals who completed the Risk Assessment Survey in the Risk Assessment Review process. Wendland shared that the Risk Assessment Surveys were distributed to senior leadership and the Board on an annual basis in the June/July timeframe and the Audit Plan was approved in the August/September timeframe. Each individual responded to the survey with their risk rating for each area which is then incorporated into the Risk-based Audit Plan.

Trustee Compton commented that due to the restructure, there was ambiguity in the phrase "at the request of management" that was used and requested that the phrase be updated to more clearly reflect where the requests originated from. Styrvoky noted that the Risk Assessment Surveys could provide more clarity.

IAD Enhancement Updates

Styrvoky noted that significant process was made in implementing enhancements. The IAD and some additional enhancements were added to the plan as well, including SharePoint updates and developing Internal Audit related training for college staff.

Questions

Trustee Flores inquired of IAD's involvement with the Veteran Payments issues identified during the external audit two years ago. She asked if there were still on-going issues. Styrvoky noted that the IAD performed the testing, however, the external auditors reported on the results and status of Veteran Payments.

2. Annual Comprehensive Financial Report for the College and Richland Collegiate High School and Single Audit Report of Federal and State Awards together with Reports of Independent Auditors, for the Fiscal Years Ended August 31, 2021 and 2020

Presenters: McConnell and Jones, LLP

The Annual Comprehensive Financial Report (ACFR) was presented by Marlon Williams, partner, with McConnell and Jones (MJ). Williams started the presentation by reviewing the values of MJ, which included the following: creativity, inclusion, transparency and accountability.

Overview of the ACFR

Williams proceeded to provide a high-level overview of dollar figures contained in the ACFR in the presentation slides.

Williams noted that most of the increases in revenues were due to grants received in response to ongoing circumstances. Chancellor May shared and Williams confirmed that the grants mostly included CARES Act funding, which were atypical funds, and allowed the school to have a good financial standing.

Trustee Compton asked what constituted the total decrease of $30 million in liabilities recorded. Williams noted that most of the decrease, $23.6 million, was a result of bond paydowns.

Trustee Compton also inquired of what constitutes the increase of $12.4 million in operating revenues. Williams shared that the increase was primarily a result of tuition revenue. Deputy Chief Tiska Thomas, also shared that there was some additional revenue received from grants and self-financed projects, such as the IT closets.

Trustee Boyd inquired about operating revenues and non-operating revenues and his concerns regarding how this information was viewed by the public and community. Williams shared that the financial presentation standards were set by GASB and recommended contacting GASB to submit complaints/suggestions. Chief Financial Officer John Robertson also recommended readers to review the Management Discussion and Analysis section of the report, which allowed management to communicate information to the reader in a manner that made more sense. Further, Williams shared that college operating revenues primarily consisted of tuition revenues, which are directly related to operations. Non-operating revenues primarily consisted of property taxes, which are not directly related to operations.

Trustee Flores asked if a clarifying footnote could be included on the presentation slides for the public that notes that operating expenses are funded by operating and non-operating revenues. Williams shared that it could be possible to add some clarifying information.

Trustee Compton asked if there was an impact on tuition revenue due to the decline in enrollment. Williams noted that there was a relatively small impact on the college because the Dallas College was funded more by property taxes and grants than by tuition revenue. Further, Robertson shared that tuition revenue increased by $3 million compared to the prior year, even with the decline in enrollment, due to various factors, such as the impact of the consolidation, which changed how the students were counted. In the previous structure, students could be counted multiple times but under the new structure, students were only counted once. Other factors included waivers and early college high schools.

Williams discussed the following areas:

- Auditor Responsibilities
- Those Charged with Governance and Management Responsibilities
- Audit Timeline
- Materiality
- Use of the Work of Others
- Significant Risks
- Results of the Audit
  - Williams noted that the results of the audit included an unmodified "clean" opinion, no scope limitations, no unresolved audit issues, no

- audit adjustments, and there was open and effective communication with management throughout the engagement.
- Trustee Flores asked if the issues with Veteran Payments a couple of years ago had been resolved. Williams noted that those issues were resolved.
- Results of the Single Audit
  - Williams noted that the results of the Single Audit included an Unmodified "clean" opinion for the seven major programs audited. There were no findings noted, no scope limitations, no material weaknesses, no significant deficiencies, no management letter comments, no unresolved audit issues, and there was open and effective communication with management.
- Other Required Communications
- Quality of Accounting Practices
- Value for Fees
- COVID-19

Questions

Regarding the Use of Others, Trustee Flores asked what situations would require the use of specialists or third parties. Williams noted that IT expertise, forensics and additional staffing from other firms were examples of when those resources were needed.

Regarding Significant Risk areas, Trustee Flores inquired of how MJ focused on governance. Williams noted this included reviewing areas to ensure no conflicts of interest were present, receiving assertions from governance noting that they had not violated their fiduciary responsibilities, and communicating the status of the engagement with governance.

Trustee Boyd asked who certified the college's ACFR. CFO Robertson shared that the external auditors certified that there were no material misstatements or misrepresentations, but the ACFR was prepared by the office of Finance/Management. Further, Williams noted that the external auditors (MJ) only audit the ACFR and Management was responsible for preparing the ACFR.

Trustee Compton requested more information regarding the post-employment benefit liability accounting estimate considering the employee changes within the reorganization. She inquired about the accounting for payments made to those employees who were let go. Robertson noted that these payments made to separated employees were made from cash reserves, as approved previously by the Board. The pension liability represented the college's portion of the State of Texas ERS unfunded liability. The post-employment benefit liability was determined by the state. An amount was then allocated to the college to record in the financial statements.

Trustee Flores inquired of the college's collection efforts. Robertson noted that the college received normal collections for property taxes. For allowance collections the college utilized a third party. Student receivable collection efforts were also conducted internally.

Trustee Ritter inquired of MJ's confidence in the college's transition to a single institution and its impact on the financial statements. Williams shared that analyzing the design and management of the transition was not part of the audit process. However, Williams noted that there was a process in place to accurately reflect expenditures. Chancellor May and CFO Robertson shared that the college had always reported consolidated/lump sum numbers and had been recognized by the state as a single institution.

Trustee Ritter inquired if there was assurance that expenditures made during the audit period were consistent with the approved budget. Williams shared that MJ did review the entire budget process cycle and concluded that the budget process was designed well. Further, Williams noted that there was a strong process in place to develop the budget, track spending and process amendments.

Trustee Ritter inquired if MJ also reviewed the delegation and authorization changes as a result of the restructure to ensure the changes were adhered to. Williams noted that there was a review conducted but did not have the results. He would provide additional details regarding the results of that review to the Board at a later date.

4. Committee Presentations

Committee Chair Ritter welcomed Steve Love, a special guest and thanked him for his service in the community during this public health crisis.

Industry Sector & School of Health Science Update
Presenters: Shawnda Floyd, Ben Magill, Greg Morris, Steve Love,
DFW Hospital Council

Provost Shawnda Floyd began the presentation by emphasizing how the demands of the pandemic impacted the allied health industry which needed to fill these gaps, and how Dallas College was responding to those needs. She handed off the meeting to Senior Vice Provost Greg Morris.

Morris thanked everyone and introduced Steve Love. Love talked about workforce problems prior to the pandemic. but expressed how the pandemic had heavily impacted the available workforce. Love said over 50% of the workforce stated in a survey that they had increased emotional and mental stress. He referenced the aging workforce and the current shortages for nurses, respiratory therapists, CT scanning technology, scrub nurses, etc. Love acknowledge the successful partnership with Dallas College during this time, currently in the third year of a grant with the college.

Love introduced a new initiative that Associate Vice Chancellor Ben Magill would expand on, describing how Dallas College was filling gaps in the workforce within areas of critical shortages.

Love thanked Dallas College for their support during this pandemic. Chancellor May thanked Love for the partnership with Dallas College.

Committee Chair Ritter mentioned how Love's partners had been in partnership with Dallas College for 54 years, including deep partnerships with Bob Ferguson and so many others.

Morris thanked Love for attending the meeting and presenting then turned the presentation over to Magill.

Magill began with the statistic of 10,504 jobs gained in DFW. He shared that more people are working in health care than any other sector in DFW. Magill talked about an increase of 3% in jobs with money pouring in to meet this need. He described how employers were looking for workers in health care with over 389,225 workers in DFW, that included 107,783 unique job postings in the industry and a projected growth of 51,700 jobs over the next year.

Morris talked about Dallas College's role pointing out that the School of Health Science enrolled approximately 6,700 students in Health Sciences and graduated 853 every single year. He mentioned that 90% of those students had a required licensure attained before going into the chosen career.

Morris provided information on the top 21 top programs in SOHS. The EMT/Paramedic program had 300-400 students every year with25 municipalities being served by Dallas College. Dallas College had students coming from far away because our fire department program was customized to meet the fire house hours in both our civilian and individual municipalities.

Morris talked about the Registered Nursing program and the pathways for LVN and ADN, which has 692 continuing students. The program will add 220 more students in Fall 2022 when the current three programs become one in Fall 2022. He mentioned one of the struggles to increase capacity is that the Texas Board of Nursing has a cap on number of students, which can only be exceeded by 25%. Morris informed the Board that Dallas College is working with the Board of Nursing on this capacity issue.

May explained the caps are about keeping salaries high and restricting access to programs. He mentioned that Texas does not have reciprocity with other states and that employees must attend programs in the state, which is bad policy. May talked about the need for quality control and how Texas is keeping out many employees who are needed here. He explained that it is the State Board of Nursing but a legislative issue.

Trustee Boyd wanted to know why there is a cap and how he never knew there was a cap.

May talked about two caps in nursing programs, State Board of Nursing and the clinical side, which also informs how many students have clinical opportunities to complete. He explained this is another reason to move to offering a baccalaureate. It will move Dallas College up in pecking order for clinicals opportunities. May mentioned the Board could talk more offline about this.

Trustee Boyd talked about the role of the Trustees, not just DC staff to be engaged in and have these discussions to address these issues.

Trustee Williams mentioned this is about the requirement to do certification in Texas if they come from outside and what an issue this is.

May informed the Board that Texas did a waiver during the pandemic.

Trustee Williams mentioned the traveling nurses going to other cities who are taking our certification, but Texas does not give back the same to other states.

Committee Chair Ritter asked how many we could enroll if this cap was removed.

Morris answered that Dallas College turns away 500-600 applicants each cohort but could increase the program if these caps were removed.

May mentioned this is not the only program Dallas College has these accreditation, certification and licensure issues.

Morris introduced the Vet Tech program, which serves 759 students in person and online with the exception of their clinical and externships. He informed the Board that Dallas College pulls in a national audience with this program.

Morris talked about the Patient Care Technician program, which has about 750 students per year and another 1,500 students who are in dual credit.

There was discussion among the Board about the difference in Patient Care Technician (PCT) and Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA) positions.

Morris answered that a Patient Care Technician can be an entry level with a living wage on the lower side of $18-19 per hour and can give students extra points for admission if they have mastered PCT.

Morris reported updates on the nursing program with 629 students continuing and 200 new students accepted for Fall 2022. There were three current programs, which would be consolidated into one program for Fall 2022. The current licensure passage rates of 86.9% for Brookhaven, 90.4% for El Centro and 100% for Mountain View.

Committee Chair Ritter asked for clarification of only graduating 853 students out of 6,700 students. Morris explained that these are two-year programs where only about 25% are eligible to graduate at the end of a term. Dr. May explained completion rates depended on the type program.

Morris talked about the persistence rates and graduation is less for medical billing and PCT programs than nursing. Dental hygiene had six years with a 100% passing rate. The new dental facility recently opened at El Centro and more than $600,000 of free dental care would be available to the community per year.

Morris shared program curriculum for the Medical Assisting program had too many courses and that was addressed with a new goal of 200 graduates by 2023 or 2024.

Discussion by the Board emphasized their satisfaction with work that was being done.

Floyd talked about how the new Dallas College structure changes made it easier to gather faculty and get action items addressed more quickly in situations such as this.

Morris reported expansion of the Virtual Care Program or Telehealth and how this curriculum expansion gave students some high tech and basic national care certifications and a Google IT support certificate. Engaging True Pathways to plug and play certificates would help grow these programs and impact students and employers.

Morris talked about the Pharmacy Tech program and described the number of job openings in Dallas/Fort Worth which needs were not being met. Talks with local pharmacy techs would help us with this program to meet the need and the use of CARES money to help with these externships for expenses like fingerprinting and certifications which could be completed in five months.

Committee Chair Ritter talked about mental health and workforce and asked if Dallas College was in that area yet. Morris answered there were programs in substance abuse and virtual care, but not a mental health program yet.

Floyd mentioned this would be more on the social service side in School of Law and Public Service with consideration on how to embed more readily into the School of Health Sciences. She stated that partnerships and social supports were being looked at currently.

Magill talked about challenges of solving immediate needs of community and mentioned the grant is timely and will help people working in service centers that lost jobs during the Pandemic. The grant targets the underserved sector and helps them move into jobs with more upward mobility post-COVID; a five hundred-million-dollar grant provided across various nationwide initiatives. Dallas College would focus on biotech.

Magill confirmed there were ten million dollars for wrap around support services. There were teams working to meet the requirements and the work with DFW Hospital Council and other colleges in DFW to do trainings and help as many people as possible to move into a better job creating a sustainable workforce. The Associate degree in biotech would be revived and that there was an incredible team marketing and work with the training program to get people trained and into jobs quickly.

The Bio North Texas is nationwide organization in different markets and cities. There was projected demand for clinical lab technicians with job openings at THR, Hospital Corp of America, and Southwestern Medical Center who made employment agreements with Dallas College. The projection was between three thousand and five thousand jobs being created.

Morris talked about Dallas College becoming more adept to address issues more quickly for the community. The embedded training with Methodist and Parkland and the Tele Health with UT Southwestern. Programs like respiratory therapy and other specialized areas could saturate the market, but Dallas College would continue to look at ways to increase the nursing program.

Floyd mentioned some of the marketing issues and finding ways to introduce these opportunities to students and intentionally targeting courses and programs to move students swiftly in and out.

Dr. May talked about how K-12 are limited on some opportunities, but Dallas College will work to grow where possible. Trustee Boyd talked about the two-story building for nursing at Mountain View and wondered if it should have been four-story. He talked about the need of the Board to think about growth moving forward.

Committee Chair Ritter talked about information gaps and benchmarking in biotech. Floyd reported engaging corporate partners and long collaborative partnerships which is being done. She mentioned the trip to North Carolina to see the impressive work with employees and faculty working together. Dallas College has fifteen hundred students in comprehensive health services, but not in one program.

Dr. May talked about Quest Diagnostics that is the only lab to work with our insurance and cover our employees and the need for them to work well and have well-trained employees.

Committee Chair Ritter thanked everyone for the presentation.

2. Richland Collegiate & Richardson ISD - Proposed Partnership Update Presenters: Shawnda Floyd, Anna Mays

Floyd recommended Dallas College move forward with this partnership.

Mays talked about SM1822 partnership to increase opportunity for students to be enrolled in RISD which currently had ten thousand students and growing. She reminded the Board that RISD engaged Dallas College regarding this partnership which would expand to Richland High School over fifteen years.

Mays talked about other resources RISD could bring forward and best practices from Dallas College and RISD. RISD authorized this in fall 2021 right after it was presented to Dallas College Board. Mays stated that recommendations for operations were sent forward in December for negotiation.

Mays informed the Board the partnerships documents would come to the Dallas College Board for review at a future meeting. She stated that Dallas College Legal office was reviewing the contract and had had staff from facilities, finance, IT, and others from Dallas College reviewing those documents; RISD was also reviewing the forms.

Mays further explained the arrangement and the new charter school for Richardson ISD. Mays explained the new charter would be under RISD and not Dallas College. The RCHS charter would go away because there could not be two at the same time. He talked about the financial benefit that comes with this and the work and changes to the board structure. May mentioned the new board with us and RISD but not current board.

Answer was given that Dallas College Chancellor and RISD would recommend new RCHS board members. The advisory board would include current board members.

Currently Richland High School can accommodate up to nine hundred students but only had three hundred eighty-seven right now; Mays confirmed students could be added later and four hundred students are expected for fall 2022.

Committee Chair Ritter asked what the Dallas College operational role will be. Mays answered that there would be a contract with RISD, and staffing would be negotiated which will be part of the agreement that would come to the Board in a future meeting. Dr. May explained that it was a charter school experience for students that allowed for partners with all the benefits, but school districts could be also be a part of.

Committee Chair Ritter asked if other districts are approaching Dallas College with these agreements. Dr. May said other districts were not as far along as RISD and their boards were not ready to give up their oversight for charter schools

4. Committee Presentations

1. Texas Community College Finance Commission Briefing Presenter: Joe May

Dr. Joe May presented an update on the Texas Community College Finance Commission. The goal of the Finance Commission is to ensure that community college services are readily accessible to students in all parts of the state and that community colleges are responsive to differing workforce needs in all regions of the state. The governor appoints members to the commission, which includes community college leadership from across the state.

Texas is one of the few states in which taxing districts do not cover the entire state. Community college service areas cover the entire state, yet approximately one-third of the population in Texas are not in any taxing districts. People living outside of the taxing districts do not pay taxes that feed into the community college.

Dr. May showed financing differences between public schools and community colleges. The legislature establishes support and maintenance for public schools. Community colleges receive appropriations biannually to supplement local funds for support, maintenance and improvement. Public schools use a funding model while community colleges use an allocation model, which varies based on contact hours biannually. Across the state, community colleges cannot cover the full amount of out-of-district costs and must supplement with tax dollars.

The commission was considering a set of design principles for a community college funding model that would recognize that the state is the minority investor in community colleges, ensure affordability, create incentives for colleges achieving 60x30TX goals and promote responsiveness to different workforce needs of different regions of the state. The commission was also looking at reducing the funding burden on students who pay out-of-district tuition, providing adequate funding support for colleges in taxing districts with low valuations, and ensuring affordability and access to workforce programs.

2. Project Financing Program

Presenters: John Robertson, Tiska Thomas, Jason Hughes, Hilltop Securities, Inc., Robert Estrada, Estrada Hinojosa Investment Bankers

John Robertson and Tiska Thomas, along with Jason Hughes and Robert Estrada, presented a financing program for future facility projects. For several years, there has been a significant amount of facility related projects for maintenance, renovation and enhancement collegewide. The college has self-funded about $70 million for facility projects using operating funds and tax notes. The lawsuit over the voter-approved bond package was still being resolved. The college needed to look at financing options to provide funding for the largescale capital projects and reimburse the college for monies spent to date.

Options for funding capital projects include using cash on hand, commercial paper and long-term debt: Revenue Bonds and General Obligation (GO) Bonds. Revenue bonds have secured fees and charges along with a fixed interest rate. The Revenue-Backed Commercial Paper program is short-term funding with a maximum security of 270 days and could be issued at any time. Finance staff were reviewing financing options and would make a recommendation at future board meeting.

Trustee Flores asked about taxpayer savings. Tiska Thomas responded that taxpayer savings were approximately $53 billion.
